

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCYPrivacy Act of 1974; System of Records

AGENCY: Central Intelligence Agency.

ACTION: Notice of Modified Systems of Records and Rescinding of Systems of Records Notices.

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given that the Central Intelligence Agency (“CIA” or “the Agency”) is submitting to the Federal Register a total of forty two (42) System of Records Notices (SORNs), and nineteen (19) General Routine Uses. Of the total package, CIA has significantly modified seven (7) existing SORNs, rescinded five (5) SORNs, created two (2) new SORNs. With respect to CIA’s routine uses, the Agency modified one (1) General Routine Use, and created five (5) new General Routine Uses. (CIA–33) is not reissued and remains in effect as published on July 22, 2005. The remaining SORNs and General Routine Uses contain updates with respect to organizational changes at CIA, as well as new requirements set by OMB.

DATES: This action is effective November 28, 2022, subject to a 30-day period in which to comment on the routine uses. Please submit any comments by December 28, 2022.

ADDRESSES: Comments may be submitted by the following methods: By mail to Kristi L. Scott, Privacy and Civil Liberties Officer, Central Intelligence Agency, Washington, DC 20505, by telephone at (571) 280–2700, or by email to FedRegComments@ucia.gov. Please include “NOTICE OF ROUTINE USES AND NEW AND MODIFIED CIA SORNS” in the subject line of the message.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Kristi L. Scott, Privacy and Civil Liberties Officer, Central Intelligence Agency, Washington, DC 20505, (571) 280–2700.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: CIA’s Office of Privacy and Civil Liberties (OPCL) conducted an omnibus review of all Agency SORNs. OPCL determined that CIA’s SORNs and General Routine Uses (RUs) could be enhanced in accordance with OMB’s updated guidance outlined in A–108. Rather than issuing piecemeal revisions, OPCL is hereby republishing the updated notices for all of its SORNs and corresponding RUs in a consolidated publication. By issuing a consolidated publication of all of its SORNs, OPCL intends to ease the administrative burden of the public having to search through multiple Federal Register volumes.

As such, CIA is publishing a total of forty two (42) SORNs in this volume. Of this total, CIA has modified seven (7) existing SORNs; rescinded four (4) SORNs; and created two (2) new SORNs. CIA is also republishing a total of nineteen (19) General RUs that are applicable to all CIA SORNs. CIA also modified one (1) General RU and created five (5) new General Routine Uses to conform to OMB guidance.

New SORNs

The new CIA SORNs are to account for the Agency’s Environmental Safety Records (CIA–42) and CIA’s Insider Threat Program (CIA–43). As part of operating its property, CIA maintains records that document facility safety requirements, such as repairs to property, building, and maintenance requests. With respect to CIA’s Insider Threat Program, CIA is publishing this new SORN to reflect changes to Executive Orders, policies, and practices, to deter insider threat activities, and educate the CIA workforce on insider threat matters.

Modified SORNs

The modified SORNs reflect the organizational changes of CIA’s directorates, including updates to authorities, purposes, categories of records, categories of individuals, and record controls. CIA modified (CIA–10), Parking Records, to include reasonable accommodations and business analytics to improve parking lot availability. CIA updated (CIA–13), Component Human Resource Records, to update new categories of individuals in order to improve efficiencies for onboarding prospective CIA employees. CIA updated (CIA–16), Employee Clinical and Psychiatric Records, to more accurately describe modernization efforts at the Agency. CIA updated (CIA–17), Applicant Clinical and Psychiatric Records, to include additional categories of individuals covered and records contained in the system of records to include individuals eligible to participate in the CIA’s medical program. CIA updated (CIA–18), Psychological Testing Records, to more accurately describe the categories of individuals and categories of records maintained in the system of records. CIA updated (CIA–19), Agency Human Resource Records, to more accurately describe official personnel files of former and current CIA staff. CIA updated (CIA–26), Office of General Counsel Records, to reflect business modernization efforts to work on legal documents.

The modified SORNs have undergone non-substantive modifications to reflect new Agency titles, to note different internal record locations, and to cite to new authorities. CIA has not made any modifications to (CIA–32) Community Management Records.

Rescinded SORNs

CIA has rescinded four (4) SORNs that are no longer necessary due to changes in CIA’s organizational structure or the decommission of certain systems of records. More specifically, (CIA–11), Accountable Property Records, was established to enable authorized personnel to document accountability for CIA nonexpendable property and to track, inventory, audit, and report on accountable property. The records are now maintained and retrieved by a serial number of the accountable property item or by location of such accountable property, instead of by name or other personal identifier.

(CIA–20), Official Personnel Files, was established to enable authorized human resources personnel to administer routine personnel transactions including: personnel assignments, performance evaluations, promotions, adverse actions, counseling, retirement determinations and qualifications, separations, medical or insurance claims, employment verification, and statistical reports. Although the records in this system are still managed by the CIA’s Office of Personnel Resources, the records are now maintained in the Privacy Act system covered by (CIA–19), Agency Human Resources Records. Due to the CIA’s unique personnel authorities, Official Personnel Files of current and former agency employees are maintained and located on CIA premises. However, duplicate copies are also maintained separately by the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) for the administration of Federal employee benefit programs and fall within the scope of OPM/GOVT–1, General Personnel Records.

(CIA–23), Intelligence Community Security Clearance and Access Approval Repository, was established to enable authorized personnel to verify individual security clearances or security access approvals throughout the Intelligence Community, in order to appropriately authorize and control access to classified and compartmented information. This database now operates under the authorities and direction of the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) and is covered by (ODNI–12), Intelligence Community Security Clearance and Access Approval Repository.

Finally, (CIA–33), National Intelligence Council Records, was established to enable authorized personnel to provide classified and unclassified information within the CIA and to appropriate Intelligence Community elements and U.S. Government officials for the conduct of authorized activities in support intelligence support of policymakers and other senior intelligence consumers. This database now operates under the authorities of the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) and is covered by ODNI-15, Mission Outreach and Collaboration Records.

The SORN citations designated to the rescinded SORNs will be reserved in the Agency's full republication, below, for ease of reference.

Statement of General Routine Uses

The Agency significantly modified one (1) General Routine Use, and added five (5) new General Routine Uses to its "Statement of General Routine Uses," in order to clarify and increase the public's knowledge of the circumstances in which the Agency may disclose, as a routine use, records from Privacy Act systems of records and to enhance the Agency's ability to share information essential to the conduct of its national security mission.

The Agency proposes renumbering General Routine Use 14 as General Routine Use 19, and: (1) requiring the disclosure under this routine use be approved by the Director of the CIA, or designee; (2) requiring the concurrence of the Privacy and Civil Liberties Officer; and (3) requiring a written assessment that the anticipated benefits outweigh the potential risks resulting from dissemination and whether the receiving entities will be subject to further restrictions on the use and dissemination of the record.

Additionally, CIA proposes adding new General Routine Uses 14 and 15 to ensure that the Agency can lawfully disclose records when reasonably necessary to identify, assess, and respond to breaches. The Agency proposes adding General Routine Use 16 to authorize the CIA to disclose records when required to elicit information or cooperation from the recipient of the information when CIA performs its authorized activities. The Agency proposes adding Routine Use 17 to authorize responsible CIA personnel to disclose records when necessary to conduct or report the progress and/or results of an investigation or inquiry into claims of discrimination or harassment brought pursuant to either federal employment laws or internal Agency regulations. Finally, the Agency proposes adding General Routine Use 18 to authorize CIA to disclose ODNI or ODNI-related records to ODNI when necessary to perform functions or services for which CIA has been engaged by ODNI.

The remaining General Routine Uses underwent minor updates to reduce redundant language and better articulate the recipient(s) of the records, as well as the purpose(s) for which the CIA discloses the records. Additionally, many of the CIA SORNs retain their Privacy Act system of records specific routine uses limited to the disclosures of records maintained in the corresponding Privacy Act system of records, as published in the SORNs below. The Agency is providing an opportunity for interested persons to submit comments on the Agency's General Routine Uses, as well as the Privacy Act system of records-specific routine uses. Unless CIA determines that, based on the submitted comments, substantial modifications are required, the routine uses will take effect 30 days after publication.

Nothing in the new or modified SORNs, or new or modified General Routine Uses, changes the Central Intelligence Agency's authorities regarding the collection and maintenance of information about citizens and lawful permanent residents of the United States, nor do the changes impact any individual's rights to access or to amend their records pursuant to the Privacy Act.

In accordance with 5 U.S.C. 552a(r), the Agency has provided a report to OMB and Congress on the new, modified, and rescinded system of records.

Dated: November 10, 2022.

Kristi L. Scott,

Privacy and Civil Liberties Officer, Central Intelligence Agency.

Statement of General Routine Uses for the Central Intelligence Agency

The following routine uses apply to, and are incorporated by reference into, each system of records maintained by the CIA:

1. Disclosure of a record indicating or relating to a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or particular program pursuant thereto, to the appropriate agency whether federal, state, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation, charged with the responsibility to take appropriate administrative action, or charged with enforcing or implementing the law related to the violation or potential violation.

2. Disclosure to a federal, state or local agency maintaining civil, criminal, relevant enforcement information, or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, to the extent necessary to obtain information relevant to a Central Intelligence Agency decision concerning hiring or retention of an employee, issuance of a security clearance or special access, or performance of the CIA's acquisition functions.

3. Disclosure to a federal, state, or local agency, or other appropriate entities or individuals, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance or special access, the reporting or an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the entity's decision on the matter.

4. Disclosure in the course of presenting information or evidence to a court, magistrate, special master, administrative law judge, or administrative board or panel, including disclosures made pursuant to statutes or regulations governing the conduct of such proceedings.

5. Disclosure to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) in connection with the review of private relief legislation, as set forth in OMB Circular No. A-19, or its successor, at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process.

6. Disclosure to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) in records management inspections conducted under the authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

7. Disclosure to a federal, state, or local agency, other appropriate entities or individuals, or, through established liaison channels, to select foreign governments, provided such disclosure is compatible with the purpose for which the record was collected and is undertaken to enable the Central Intelligence Agency to carry out its intelligence mission in support of U.S. national security objectives under authorizing laws, statutes, policies, and regulations or any successor order, national security directives applicable to the Agency and implementing procedures approved by the Attorney General promulgated pursuant to such Orders and directives, as well as statutes, Executive orders and directives of general applicability. This routine is not intended to supplant the other routine uses published by the Central Intelligence Agency.

8. Disclosure to a Member of Congress or Congressional staffer acting upon the Member's behalf in response to an inquiry from that Member or staffer made at the written request of the constituent who is the subject of the record.

9. Disclosure to the public or to the media for release to the public, to enable the CIA to respond to charges of illegal or improper activity, professional misconduct, or incompetence when such allegations have become publicly known, and the General Counsel in consultation with the Privacy and Civil Liberties Officer, determines that such disclosures are necessary to preserve public confidence in the Agency and the integrity of its processes, or to demonstrate the accountability of the Agency and its employees, and such disclosures do not clearly constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

10. Disclosure to any Federal agency when information obtained from that agency is used in compiling the record, and the record is relevant to the official responsibilities of that agency.

11. Disclosure to representatives of the Department of Justice or of any other entity responsible for representing the interests of the Central Intelligence Agency in connection with judicial, administrative, or other proceedings. Records may also be disclosed to representatives of the Department of Justice and other U.S. Government entities designated by the CIA to represent CIA interests, to the extent necessary to obtain advice on any matter.

12. Disclosure to individual Members or staff of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence and the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence in connection with the exercise of the Committees' intelligence oversight and legislative functions, when such limited disclosures are necessary to a lawful activity of the United States, and the CIA General Counsel has determined that such disclosures are otherwise lawful.

13. Disclosure to the President's Intelligence Advisory Board, the Intelligence Oversight Board, any successor organizations, and other intelligence or independent oversight entities established by the President or Congress, when the Director of the Central Intelligence Agency determines that such disclosures will assist these entities in the performance of their oversight functions.

14. Disclosure to appropriate Federal agencies, entities, and individuals when the CIA: (1) suspects or has confirmed that there has been a breach of a Privacy Act system of records; (2) has determined that as a result of the suspected or confirmed breach there is a risk of harm to individuals, the CIA (including its information systems, programs and operations), the Federal Government, or national security; and (3) the disclosure made to such agencies, entities, and individuals is reasonably necessary to assist in connection with the CIA's efforts to respond to the suspected or confirmed breach or to prevent, minimize, or remedy such harm.

15. Disclosure to appropriate Federal agencies, entities, and individuals when the CIA determines that information from a Privacy Act system of records is reasonably necessary to assist the recipient agency, entity or individual in: (1) responding to a suspected or confirmed breach; or (2) preventing, minimizing, or remedying the risk of harm to individuals, the recipient agency or entity (including its information systems, programs, and operations), the Federal Government, or national security, resulting from a suspected or confirmed breach.

16. Disclosure to any individual or entity that the CIA has reason to believe possesses information regarding a matter within the jurisdiction of the CIA, to the extent deemed to be necessary in order to elicit such information or cooperation from the recipient for use in the performance of an authorized activity.

17. Disclosure to complainants, Responsible Management Officials (RMOs), witnesses, and other individuals to the extent necessary to conduct or report the progress and/or results of an investigation or inquiry into claims of discrimination or harassment brought pursuant to either federal employment laws or internal Agency regulations.

18. Disclosure to the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) to the extent that CIA maintains ODNI or ODNI-related records pursuant to a service level agreement, when access to such records is necessary to perform the function or service for which the CIA has been engaged by ODNI.

19. In accordance with the CIA's approved Attorney General Guidelines, disclosure to other appropriate recipients, if such dissemination is necessary to a lawful activity of the United States, including for a foreign intelligence, counterintelligence, and counterterrorism purpose, with approval from the Director of the CIA or designee, concurrence by the Privacy and Civil Liberties Officer, and concurrence by the General Counsel after consultation with the National Security Division of the Department of Justice. Any such disclosure will require a written assessment that the anticipated benefits outweigh the potential risks resulting from dissemination and whether the receiving entities will be subject to further restrictions on the use and dissemination of the record.

ROUTINE USES OF RECORDS MAINTAINED IN THE SYSTEM, INCLUDING CATEGORIES OF USERS AND THE PURPOSES OF SUCH USES:

In addition to the disclosures generally permitted under 5 U.S.C. Section 552a(b), information on additional routine uses is set forth in the “Statement of General Routine Uses for the Central Intelligence Agency,” set out above, which is incorporated herein by reference. In addition to the General Routine Uses incorporated by reference, the following additional routine uses also apply to this SORN:

20. Records in this system are used and disclosed as necessary by members of the Office of Inspector General in the investigation or inspection of matters of interest or concern to the Director of the CIA, Inspector General, and senior Agency officials, including grievances and allegations of misconduct by Agency employees, and to provide information to Agency management regarding personnel matters, and for evaluating current and proposed programs, policies and activities, selected assignments, and requests for awards or promotions.

21. Records in this system that indicate a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal, or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or particular program, or by rule, regulation, or order pursuant thereto, or that indicate a violation or potential violation of a contractual obligation, may be disclosed to the appropriate agency, whether federal, state, local, foreign, or international, charged with the responsibility for investigating or prosecuting such violation, enforcing or implementing such statute, rule, regulation, or order, or with enforcing such contract.

22. Records in the system may be disclosed to a federal, state, local, foreign, or international agency, or to an individual or organization, when necessary to elicit information relevant to an Office of Inspector General investigation, inspection, inquiry, decision, or recommendation.

23. Records in the system may be disclosed to a federal, state, local, foreign, or international agency when requested in connection with the assignment, hiring, or retention of an individual, the issuance or revocation of a security clearance, letting of a contract, or any authorized inquiry or investigation to the extent that the information is relevant to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

24. Records in the system may be disclosed to any federal agency when documents, witness statements, or other information obtained from that agency are used in compiling the system record, or when the record is relevant to the official responsibilities of that agency.

25. Unclassified records in the system, or unclassified portions thereof, including information identifying individuals covered by the system, may be disclosed to the public when the matter under investigation has become public knowledge or the Inspector General determines that such disclosure is necessary to preserve confidence in the integrity of the Inspector General process, or is necessary to demonstrate the accountability of CIA employees, officers, or individuals covered by the system, unless it is determined that release of the specific information in the context of a particular case would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

26. Records in the system pertaining to an employee grievance may be disclosed to any party to that grievance except for records that disclose the identity of a non-party who requested confidentiality and provided a statement during the grievance process.

27. Records in the system may be disclosed in the course of presenting evidence to a court, magistrate, or administrative tribunal, including disclosures in the course of settlement negotiations, or pursuant to statutes or regulations governing the conduct of such proceedings.

28. Records in the system may be disclosed to representatives of the Department of Justice or of any other agency that is responsible for representing Agency interests in connection with judicial, administrative, or other proceedings. Records may also be disclosed to the Department of Justice to the extent necessary to obtain its advice on any matter relevant to an Office of Inspector General investigation.

29. Records in the system may be disclosed to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence and the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence, or other congressional committees, or the staffs thereof, in connection with their oversight and legislative functions.

30. Records in the system may be disclosed to the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board, and the Intelligence Oversight Board, and any successor organizations, when requested by those entities, or when the Inspector General determines that disclosure will assist in the performance of their oversight functions.
